Medical Library News

February – April 2006

Nursing Consult now available! – Mosby's Nursing Consult is a premier online resource for trusted, authoritative information, designed to help nurses provide the best patient care possible. The AMEDD is participating in a trial of the database before it is commercially available in 2006 at which time our license will be enabled, allowing access to Mosby's Nursing Consult. The Nursing Consult link has been added to our database page. Instructions for obtaining personal accounts will be published as soon as they become available.

Age Specific Newsletters are now available and ready for viewing. If accessing them from home, or off site, the link will prompt you to enter your amedd user ID and password. Print copies of the newsletters are available in the medical library. Personal Growth, a newsletter for ancillary staff is our newest addition. View the January 2006 edition on the library web page under Age Specific Resources!

New Classes:

Evidence Based Resources: class will focus on searching the evidence through various databases we have available, such as OVID, Cochrane Databases, and ACP Pier.

Nursing Consult: similar to MDConsult, but tailored for nurses. Explore Nursing Consult's features such as drugs information, drug calculators, clinical updates, patient education, Nursing News and more!
